ACTION AGAINST COL. ROOSEVELT

Celebrated Case Being Virtually Decided Behind The Scenes

DIRECTIONS TO JURY

Counsel Inclined to Believe Instructions Will Largely "Swing" the Fierce Controversy

Syracuse, May 1.—With court in recess today until Monday, the soft pedal was put on the political discords of the Barnes-Roosevelt liebl trial.

Today's activity consisted solely of conferences between lawyers and principals. Coolnel Roosevelt and Barnes both remained here.

A heavy rain curbed the colonel's outdoor exertise program, but he planned to take a long walk despite the showers, and possibly a horseback ride. Barnes and Roosevelt both met their lawyers at a hotel here.

Behind the scenes, however, the celebrated case today was really being decided to a large degree. Trial Justice Andrews began considering his instructions to the jury. All counsel concede that these directions will largely "swing" the case. The colonel's testimony was the main point being considered. That some will be stricken from the record and ordered ignored by the jury was the prediction of Barnes' counsel.

That the judge will not direct a verdict was generally believed. Barnes' counsel today asserted, however, that a verdict directed for the New York State leader, with the jury to assess damages, was possible.

The Barnes legal experts insisted that Roosevelt had given little evidence in "justification" of the alleged libel, except that of William Loeb, regarding Barnes' alleged agreement to keep "hands off" the Democrats in their election of Senator O'Gorman, and the "printing graft" testimony.

They cited the rule of law that justification proof must be" as broad as the libel.

Roosevelt's lawyers, on the other hand, were as confident that corroboration of the colonel's charges by his own testimony and other witnesses, with their trump card to be played in evidence of alleged printing graft, had been ample.

The Roosevelt side expects to conclude its evidence Monday or Tuesday. Barnes' personal testimony will take two or three days, it is believed. He also has about twenty-five witnesses, and attorneys were not sure whether the case could be finished next week.

ALLIES' CLEVER RUSE

Send Donkeys in to Cover Landing of Soldiers.

London, May 1.—The Daily News correspondent, Hugh Martin, in a dispatch from Tenedos says one of the allied forces' landing on the Gallipoli peninsula was made as the result of a clever and comic ruse.

"Covered by a vigorous fire from our ships" he says "nearly a thousand donkeys with dummy baggage and mountain guns were put ashore at a certain spot. The Germans and Turks at once diverted a strong force in this direction. Meanwhile the real landing force easily accomplished its purpose some distance up the coast. The regiment of donkeys, which were decrepit animals, purchased in the islands for a mere song, was annihilated.

"The prisoners taken by allies in their land fighting already number several thousand, including many German officers, who have been sent to Malta.

"Among the prisoners are not a few Turks with revolver bullets wounds inflicted by their German officers in driving them on to the attack or in desperately endeavoring to prevent their retreat. One soldier, now in the hospital at Moudros, has three such wounds in his head."

FORD SUCCEEDS SOUTHWARD

Collector of Internal Revenue R. C. L. Moncure Announces Changes Effective Today.

Richmond, May 1.—Colector of Internal Revenue R. C. L. Moncure yesterday afternoon announced that, effective today, C. H. Ford, of Fairfax county, who since last October has been attached to the internal revenue service in the stamp department, will be division deputy collector, succeeding E. P. Southward, and that R. C. McIntyre, son of Major R. A. McIntyre, of Warernton, becomes stamp deputy, succeeding Mr. Ford. Mr. Southward is placed on the civil service list.

Mr. Southward has been in the internal revenue service here for the last eighteen years, most of which time he has been in contact with the tobacco industry. When it became known about two weeks ago that Mr. Southward was to be transfered to the civil service list a number of men in the tobacco industry, with which Mr. Southward is thoroughly familiar, making him a valuable man to both the service and the tobacco industry, effort was made to have the Treasury Department officials in Washington cause the transfer order to be rescinded. This movement was unsuccessful.

Mr. Ford has been in the service several months and he has proved himself efficient and capable, and the transfer from the stamp office to the office of division deputy colector is a decided promotion. His home is at Clifton, Fairfax County, but, with his family, he has been living in Richmond for the last few months. He is a graduate of St. John's Military Academy, Alexandria, and a veteran of the Spanish-American war.

Mr. McIntyre, who succeeds Mr Ford in the stamp department, is new in the service, having come to Richmond from the Seaboard National Bank, Norfolk, to take the position. He is a graduate of the University of Virginia, and is well remembered as catcher on the University team a few years ago.

London, May 1—A dispatch from Algeciras says that the Hamburg-American Line steamer Macedonia, which escaped from Las Palmas, where she was interned on November 13, has been recaptured and is being taken to Gibraltar with another captured German steamer.

The British admiralty confirms the report.

CANADA TO SEND 150,000

But Will Exceed Number if Kitchener Needs Them

Ottawa, Ont. May 1—Though there has been no official announcement as to the number of men Canada will send to swell the ranks of the Allies, it is understood that according to present plans 150,000 men will be sent to the firing line, and more if Lord Kitchener needs them.

Instead of sending the men over in batches as reinforcements when required, the third and fourth contigents, it is stated, will be mobilized and sent forward earlier than was at first intended.

SWEEPING TOWARD CONSTANTINOPLE

British Landing Forces Fight Their Way up to the Narrows

FRENCH ON EAST SIDE

Allied Fleet Covers Landing at Six Points and Batters Shore Fortifications at Heavy Loss

London, May 1.—Further fighting of the heaviest character is reported in progress on the Gallipoli peninsula, where the British forces are making every effort to cut off the Turks from the mainland. Athens dispatches say that a series of night assaults drove the Turks further inland.

The co-operating allied fleet is shelling the Turkish forts from inside of the Dardanelles, from the Gulf of Saros and from the Aegean Sea. Meanwhile the French are advancing on the Asiatic side.

The Turkish positions at Nagara were heavily bomardede last night.

Sweeping toward Constantinople on land and sea, the combined French and British forces are conducting a determined campaign from flank and rear to reduce the forts guarding the Dardanelles.

Two forts have already fallen before the brilliant campaign inaugurated in the new movement, Seddul Bahr succumbing to the British and Kum Kaleh, on the Asiatic side, to the French allies.

At six points on the Gallipoli peninsula the British land forces are firmly established and the co-operating fleet is established ten miles up the Dardanelles.

Colonial troops from Australia and New Zealand landing at Sari Banr, have the task of cutting a way across the narrow part of the peninsula and of attacking the forts guarding Nagara Roads from the rear.

Official reports of the operations reaching the British war office indicate that today the attack is well under way and that the advance along the Dardanelles has begun, the main British army sweeping up the European side while the co-operating French force is advancing along the Asiatic side from Kum Kaleh.

London, May 1—After serious fighting, in which the Turks offered a stubborn resistance, British troops, according to an official statement issued last night, have established themselves on the Gallipoli Peninsula and advanced a considerable distance toward the narrows of the Dardanelles, while the French have cleared Cape Kum Kaleh, on the Asiatic side of the Straits of Turks. Thus it may be said that the second and most serious attempt to force the Dardanelles has been fairly launched.

The Turks, under the guidance of their German officers, placed every obstacle in the way of the invaders, but against the fire of the allied fleet and the gallanrty of the army they were forced to fall back. The British forces lost heavily in the operation.

One Turkish troopship was sunk by the British battleship Queen Elizabeth, which is believed again to have been firing her big guns across the peninsula, directed by airmen. The troopship was sunk off Maidos, a town well inside the Narrows, which later the battleship Triumph bombarded and set on fire.

The official account of the landing of the allied troops does not bear out the over-optimistic reports from Grecian towns which precede it and which mentioned thousands of prisoners as having been captured, the total of men taken by the allies being given as 500. These were cut off by the fire of the ships.

An arbitration award advancing to some extent the rates of pay of 64,000 locomotive engineers, firemen and hostlers employed on the 140,000 miles of line of 98 Western railroads in the great area of the United States and Canada bounded on the east by the Illinois Central and the great lakes, was signed in Chicago yesterday.

DISASTROUS FIRE RAGES AT COLON

Twenty- two Blocks Burn With Loss of Two Million Dollars

ARREST OF LOOTERS

Thousands Are Homeless—Work of Salvaging Conducted Under the Direction of Americans

Colon, May 1.—Two companies of United States coast artillery are today aiding native police in protecting the fire-swept district of Colon from looters.

Soon after the blaze that almost totally destroyed the business section of the city last night was put under control looting started in a dozen places. Scores of arrests were made. The work of salvaging is going on under the direction of the troops.

The damage from the fire is estimated at $2,000,000. Between 10,000 and 12,000 persons, mostly colored, are homeless. Plans are being made to take care of them.

Twenty-two blocks were wiped out by the flames. All of the bank buildings were destroyed. The fire started in the telephone exchange and swept furiously through the district of wooden buildings. Firemen finally succeeded in controlling the flames by dynamiting.

Colon is the Spanish-American town at the Atlantic entrance to the Panama Canal and is next in importance among the Isthmus towns to Panama City. It had a population of 18,000 when the 1911 censrs was taken.

It is located on a tract of land surrounded by United States territory, the adjacent settlement being called Christobal—the two together having the Spanish name of Christopher Columbus.

BIG STORM IN FAR WEST.

Hurricane And Cold Weather Damage Fruit.

San Francisco, May 1.—Record-breaking cold weather and high winds in half a dozen far Western States has abated somewhat after causing widespread damage. This may be increased in fruit districts by frost. The wind at times reached a velocity of 100 miles an hour.

Scores of small craft were driven ashore along the California coast and small vessels attempting to leave San Francisco harbor had to put back. In San Francisco two boys were killed by a live wire.

Orchards in California and Oregon suffered.

From Idaho came reports of thousands of lambs frozen to death.

In Eastern Washington, Idaho and Montana, the temperature fell 25 degrees in 12 hours.

In Los Angeles 44 degrees was registered at 6 a. m. today.

Operators of the wireless station on the Farallone Islands, 25 miles west of here, reported seeing a launch with five men to the leeward of the group. The boat disappeared and in a few hours later a hatch cover and other wreckage from a fishing launch were washed ashore on the mainland. It is fearedthe little vessel may have been wrecked and all on board drowned.

The property damage in this vicinity is estimated at $200,000 and the damage at other points along the coast is known to be considerable.

On Monterey Bay, south of here, 54 small boats were piled up on the beach.

In San Francisco much wire trouble was caused by the storm and telegraph and telephone wires were reported down in many directions outside of the city.

ROW AT INVESTIGATION.

Richmond City Attorney Threatens to Resign.

Richmond, May 1.—Torrents of controversial discussion, involving questions of procedure and the admissibility of evidence, animated argument between members of the investigating committee and the attorneys, an accusation that City Attorney Pollard was prosecuting some of the witnesses and defending others, a threat from the City Attorney to withdraw and report to the City Council, and a rebuke administered to Policeman Sweet by Councilman Edgar B. English, who complained that Sweet, who was in the witness chair, was impertinent to him, were some of the more or less spectacular incidents that marked the proceedings of the Council committee investigating the Police Department last night.

The committee sat from 8 o'clock until past midnight, then adjourned until one week from next Friday night, after adopting a resolution renewing its request on the Vice Commission for the "secret budget." Under this resolution, the Vice Commission is asked to surrender the 500 pages of evidence in its possession, so that it may be examined by the City Attorney and the chairman of the investigating committee, who shall extract from the mass of data all the evidence having any bearing upon the official conduct of members of the Police Department.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS.

Washington, May 1.—Evidences of an earthquake, which, if on land, probably was most destructive, were registered on the seismographs of the Naval Observatory and Georgetown University and in the laboratory of St. Ignatius' College in Cleveland early today.

The quakes, as nearly as can be estimated, were from 5,000 to 5,500 miles from Washington, and from 6,000 to 7,000 miles from Cleveland.

The report from the Naval Observatory states that a distinct shock was registered from 12:12 a. m until after 2 a. m. today. This record agrees with that obtained on the Georgetown instruments in point of duration. The university seismographs show that the shock was the heaviest at 12:45 a. m. Officials of both the observatory and the university agree that the tremor probably was very destructive.

Calf Kills a Man.

Huntington, W. Va., May 1.—Thomas Maynard, 45, a Pike county (Ky.) farmer, died 10 minutes after a jugular vein was severed when a calf which he intended to kill kicked the hand in which he was holding a sharp knife.

Maynard had stepped near the animal when it became frightened. He was found by members of the family bleeding to death, and before a physician could be summoned he died.

APPEAL MADE TO POPE BENEDICT

Cardinals Allege Such an Opportunity Will Never Come Again

POWERFUL PRESSURE

Pontiff Natural Defender of Christian Morals—Church Above Political Considerations

Rome, May 1—Belgian and French cardinals, archbishops and bishops have united in an appeal to Pope Benedict for the Vatican to abandon the attitude of neutrality it has maintained since the beginning of the war. They say they cannot understand how the head of a church which is founded on principals of right and justice can remain neutral without protesting at the same time against those who violate written or unwritten laws. The Pontiff is urged to assume an attitude which would be epochmaking in the history of the papacy.

Cardinal Mercier, archbishop of Malines; Cardinals Amette, archbisnop of Paris, and other members of the Sacred College have sent a memoranda to the Pope insisting that such an opportunity may never occur again for the church to show that it stands above political considerations, caring only for the moral and religious interests of its people. It is recalled that even in the Vatican council of 1870 a petition signed by 10 bishops was presented, demanding that the church promulgate Christian principles to regulate war and the rights of nations. Other attempts having the same object were made even before that date. In 1868 Cardinal Couille accepted the patronage of Union for the Study of Rights of Nations According to Christian Principles. Among those who joined in the movement were Cardinals Rampolla, Mercier, Bourne, Amette, Maffi and Varzari.

In the memoranda presented to the Pope they say:

"Now is the moment to put into practice the result of those studies as Catholics, and even a certain number of Protestants look to the Pope as the natural defender of Christian morality. Demanding guidance in matters so connected with modern civilization which are the outcome of Christian teachings. The Pontiff as the supreme pastor of Catholics throughout the world has the right to lay down moral principles which should govern all Christian nations in their reciprocal relations.

"The earliest theologians condemned war altogether, but later, chiefly through the influence of St. Augustine, war sometimes was considered inevitable. St. Thomas and other authorities teach that war always is unlawful unless it is just, which justice can exist only through a just cause and a right intention.

"Injustice is no more morally right for a nation than for an individual and its perpetrator is condemned by all Christian principles. Theologians denounce as a pagan error the assertion that 'might is right,' or that the right to wage war depends on force of arms. It is worse still when a stronger country fights from a desire for conquest or demands a great indemnity. This, after the killing of thousands is called by St. Augustine 'brigandage' necessitating a league of honest, peace-loving nations.

"Christian theologians call such wars thefts and also teach that the injustice which was seeks to redress must be certain and evident. War is morally wrong when in vindication of probable or of doubtful rights."

After citing authorities who condemn the necessary destruction of life and property, recommending love even between enemies and ordering that noncombatants be spared, they close with this statement.

"International laws and conventions are expressions of legitimate consideration. The Hague convention of 1907 gives expression to moral principles binding on the conscience of all Christians."

PAYING CAPITATION TAX TO GO OUT OF BUSINESS

Increase in Qualifications And Applications for Marriage Licenses.

Belated tax payers are continuing to pour into the office of Thomas W. Robinson, city treasurer, for the purpose of paying their capitation taxes in order to permit them to vote in the Democratic primary on August 8th. With the balance of the day still remaining, the indications are that the record will be broken and that Alexandria will have in the forthcoming election the largest number of qualified voters in many years. Up to noon today 1810 persons had qualified.

Not to be outdone by City Treasurer Robinson, who collected more capitation taxes this month than ever previously in the history of Alexandria, Nevell S. Greenaway, clerk of the courts, called the little god Cupid to his aid and proceeded to break the record for the issuance of marriage licenses. During the month of April he issued permits for 162 persons to marry. Nineteen of these permits were served to colored couples and the remainder to white couples. During the same month Mr. Greenaway recorded 53 deeds, which was far above the average.

"THE CITY MANAGER A NEW PROFESSION."

This headline is the title of an interesting publication just issued by D. Appleton & Co., New York and London. Harry Aubrey Toulmin is the author, and while the deductions of the writer may not be readily adopted by every reader, his suggestions and observations cannot fail to bring reveries. Municipal government is a problem which has caused study from time immemorial. Reforms have succeeded reforms, and after all, new regimes have produced but temporary results, and, like turning a sick man in bed, in a short time troubles return.

The idea of employing an efficient professional municipal expert as the general manager of a city for the same purpose as the general manager of a private corporation is a signal departure in local government in America. The commission-manager form of government has achieved a wide reputation in a very short time. The bulk of the people in nearly every city in America have grown weary of the unsatisfactory manner of conducting public affairs and notwithstanding the many changes in charters the conditions have not greatly improved.

People are gradually awakening to the fact that city government is one of the great factors in human life and bids fair to become even a greater factor during coming generations. The charge is often made that our municipal machinery is hopelessly involved and complicated and inadequate. The era of new charters has run its course, and the remedy, it is alleged, is not found in such changes, which prove but whitewash upon a pump which does not yield water.

The city of Galveston, Texas after having been almost eliminated by a tidal wave from the Gulf of Mexico, has recuperated rapidly and wonderfully under this modern mode of government, municipal officers having been taken out of politics.

Mr. Toulmin's volume explains the details of the city manager form of government as it exists in a score of cities. The author being a citizen of Dayton, he has had ample opportunity to study at first hands the city manager form of government; he has also had the advantage of consultation and close contact with those who were making the experiment.

Mr. Toulmin set forth many startling facts and figures showing the inability of some persons to conduct the financial or administrative affairs of cities. Too often are incompetent men, who were unable to conduct their own affairs, placed in public positions. Failure was of course, inevitable.

Among other things, the author says: "The spirit of sectionalism has dominated the political life of every city. Ward pitted against ward, aldermen against aldermen, and legislation only effected by 'log-rolling' extravagant measures into operation, mulcting the city, but gratifying the greed of constituents, has too long stung the conscience of decent citizenship. This constant treaty-making of factionalism has been no less than a curse. The city manager plan proposes the commendable thing of abolishing wards."

Mr. Toulmin would make the talented politician an Othello without an occupation.

Mr. Toulmin's book however, should be read and studied carefully studied by all interested in goverments, as he utters many truths which cannot be gainsaid nor resisted.

VICTORS MUST PAY THE COST.

When General Grant concentrated virtually the entire federal army into Virginia during the last year of the war between the states, it was realized that Richmond was to fall, but that it would be accomplished at a fearful price to the victors. Grant realized that when one federal soldier fell he could replace him and, and he knew General Lee was powerless to follow his tactics. He therefore allowed thousands of his men to be mowed down in order to bring the war to a close.

When the Japanese surrounded Port Arthur several years ago they found themselves up against a similar proposition. Port Arthur could be taken but only at a great sacrifice of life in the ranks of the besiegers. The move was finally made and the fortress fell, but crape had been placed on many a door before General Stoessel marched out.

The allies are facing the same condition in their movement upon the Dardanelles. The fatalities are frightful. Trousands are dying midst the clash of war, while huge war vessels are being destroyed. The allies it is believed will eventually reach Constantinople, but they will pay the cost.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Contest for Debating Medal to be Narrowed Down to Four—Volley Ball League Organized.

Owing to the postponement of the third of the contest debates scheduled for tonight at the A. H. S. Literary Sociey meeting until May 15th, in order to have the two debates before the final held on the same date, only two more contestants will be thrown out of the race tonight. The subject of the first debate tonight is "Resolved, that buying a fare entitles the buyer to a seat," the affirmative being Miss Dolly Callahan and the negative, Tupper Barrett, and of the second, "Resolved, that the Monroe Doctrine should be abolished," affirmative, Waller Barrett, negative, Miss Annah Haslett, all of the four debaters having won out in their respective primary debates.

On May 15 the winners of these two debates will be pitted against each other on the subject, "Resolved, that labor unions, as organized and managed in the United States are a benefit to the public." On this date the two winners of the last two primaries held April 17 will debate on "Resolved, that American boys should be given military training," the affirmative speaker being William Morton and the one for the negative, Gus Pohl. The winners of the two debates on the 15th, will appear in the final contest, for which an excellent subject has been chosen, a subject full of local interest and now that will, in all probability, be very close, "Resolved, that Alexandria city should adopt a commission form of government."

The meeting tonight is at eight o'clock and a large attendance of members is expected.

A volley ball league, similar to that formed last year at the High School, has been organized among the various classes, and already several interesting and exciting games have been played. The class coming out on top at the close will receive, as last year, a gallon of ice cream, and all the teams will hustle, both for the prize and for the honor of topping all the strong class teams which form the league, there being seven in line.

The winning American merchant marine essay in the A. H. S. contest ahs been turned in to the State headquarters to be judged with the winners of the other Virginia High School contests in the contest for the state gold medal. A decision is expected within about a month. A map of the State of Virginia received from the Newport News Chamber of Commerce shows the places where the seventy-four different schools in the contest are situated. It is estimated that there was a total of four hundred essays turned in from all the high schools.

Herman Pohl, a 1913 graduate of the Alexandria High School, is continuing to do excellent work at the United States Military Academy, West Point. Latest reports show that out of a class of over two hundred he stands first in mathematics, fifth insurveying, and is high in every other subject. This speaks well for not only the abilities of Mr. Pohl, but for the local school.

The final Algebra examination of the Fourth Year was held yesterday.

The baseball game scheduled yesterday with Georgetown Preps, was cancelled by the latter.

AUSTRIAN SUBMARINES

French Cruiser Unable to Answer S. O. S. Calls from Leon Gambetta

Paris, May 1.—When the French armored cruiser Leon Gambetta was sunk off Otranto, Italy by the Austrian submarine U-5 with the loss of about 589 members of her crew, including Rear Admiral Fenet, the French cruiser Jules Ferry, a sister ship was only fifty miles away and picked up the "S O. S." calls of the sinking ship. But the Jules Ferry could not go to the aid of the torpedoed cruiser because of the presence of another Austrian submarine which was maneuvering to attack her. This underwater craft chased the Jules Ferry for two hours, trying vainly to launch a torpedo, but was finally driven off by the fire of the criser's guns.

The construction at Pola of ten submarines, the parts of which had been sent to the Austrian naval base from Germany, has apparently been the signal for the launching of a vigorous submarine war in the Adriatic sea and adjacent waters against the French men of war that have been operating there. The presence of many Austro -German submarines has been reported by Italian ships during the past three days.

VENGEFUL MINK BIT TIRES.

Autoist Finally Solves Mystery of Nine Explosions.

Benzonia, Mich., May 1.—Bert Peters has solved the mystery of his automobile tires. Since last September in spite of the fact that he has had his small car out of the garage only a few times, he had had to buy nine new tires.

The first exploded early one morning after he had been driving the car at night.

When it happened the second time he grew suspicious and when he found the third tire mutilated he came to the conclusion some enemy was chopping his tires with a hatchet.

He doubled padlocked the garage. The other morning he was asleep in his room when a sharp explosion awakened him. Seizing his gun he sprang to the garage just in time to find a mink crawling dazedly across the floor. Bert killed it.

Now he recalls that just before the first tire blew out last September he ran over a mink. He thinks that the mink's mate has been biting holes in his tires to revenge the killing of its life partner.

Desirable Investment Proposition For Sale That Will Net 20 Per cent Per Annum
On $5,000

The Carlyle House Corporation, owners of the Braddock House and the Carlyle House on North Fairfax street, Alexandria, offer for sale the four story brick building, with five stores, fronting on North Fairfax street in Alexandria. The building fronts 96 feet on Fairfax street, opposite the city market and has a depth of about 40 feet. A right of way through the center store, which would have to be converted into a lobby, as an entrance to the Carlyle House, is reserved.

This building can be readily converted into a model apartment house for which there is a great demand in Alexandria. It will make the most beautiful apartment house in the city as there is abundance of light on both sides of the building.

That it will pay a very handsome dividend on the money invested has been proven by the Wagar Apartments, on the north, which are now completed In this house there are nine apartments all rented by the year to desirable tenants at much larger rentals than are estimated for this proposition.

The building can be converted into amodern apartment house with all improvements for the sum of $5000, which is the amount that will have to be invested. Estimates from reliable contractors have been secured for the work which will include an attractive lobby, stairway, steam heating plant boiler for hot water and modern plumbing.

The property will be sold for $10,000 and no cash will be required, the entire purchase price remaining as a mortgage for a period of four years with interest at six per cent.

The following is an approximate estimate of the receipts and disbursements, made upon reliable estimates:

RECEIPTS PER ANNUM

Rental of six apartments, each containing 5 large rooms, bath and kitchen, with private center hall, light on all sides including heat, water and janitor service furnished, minimum $25 per month each or $300 per annum, a total of $1,800.00

Rental of four stores with heat and water furnished, two of which are already rented and there is an application for a third, $15 per month each or $180 per annum, a total of $720.00

Total estimated receipts $2,520.00

EXPENSES

Interest on $10,000 mortgage at 6 per cent	$600.00
Taxes and Insurance	$250.00
Coal bill $50 per month for six months	$300.00
Water rent,	$90.00
Janitor service, $20 month,	$240.00
Repairs	$60.00
	$1,540.00
Remaihing after paying expenses	$980.00

This is equivalent to almost 20 per cent per annum on $5,000.

Remember that this is not an experiment but is proven by the Wagar Apartments occupying a portion of the same building.
